

Nassau Academy of Medicine

Susan Zwanger, MD
President

Dr. Zwanger graduated from the Honors Program in Medical Education at Northwestern University in 1980. She then completed an internship in Internal Medicine at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center and a residency in Radiology at New York University Medical Center, which were followed by a fellowship in Interventional Radiology at Nassau University Medical Center.

She currently serves on the Medical Alumni Association Board of the Feinberg School of Medicine of Northwestern University, having also been a member of the National Alumni Board for two four-year terms in the past. She continues to serve as a class representative for the Class of 1980. In recognition of her years of dedication, the Alumni Association has awarded her its Outstanding Service Award.

In keeping with Dr. Zwanger's commitment to community service and education, she also served as co-President of the Stuyvesant High School Parents' Association as well as on numerous PA committees, and each summer she attends Oxford University to take courses in cultural and intellectual disciplines ranging from art to ancient history to opera. She currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Association in New York City.

Dr. Zwanger has had a lifelong passion for the arts, particularly classical music, and since 2011 she has sung with the Oratorio Society of New York, with whom she has performed numerous times at Carnegie Hall, as well as at Lincoln Center, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, and in concert tours all over the world. She believes that music is healing and thus her devotion to making it accessible to the public is entirely in keeping with her career in medicine.
